The Distinguished Undergraduate Advising/Mentoring Award recognizes a department or program faculty advisor for extensive and exceptional involvement in advising and mentoring students.

Criteria
The award is intended to honor an individual who has demonstrated a tenacious commitment to advising/mentoring undergraduate students. This is a one-time award of $1000*.

Eligibility
College of Humanities faculty members. According to UHAP Chapter 3, “Faculty shall mean those members of The University of Arizona who are appointed to positions that are responsible for and whose performance evaluations are primarily based on the teaching, research and public service goals and objectives of the institution; and who have professor, associate professor, assistant professor, instructor, or lecturer in their title.

Nomination Instructions
While it is suggested that the department/program present a strong nomination packet, all letters of nomination will be accepted. Departmental nominations should include:

- A letter of nomination addressing the nominee’s contributions to advising/mentoring.
- A statement of nominee’s advising and mentoring philosophy.
- Letters of support with at least four letters from students

Deliver Packet to: COH Awards Committee
Attn: Amanda Pitts
College of Humanities Dean’s Office
Modern Languages Bldg., Room 345
Campus P.O. Box 210067

Late or incomplete nominations will not be accepted.

Questions
Contact Amanda Pitts at 621-4743, or amp0712@email.arizona.edu

Selection Process
One awardee will be chosen. Notification will be sent to the individual, and to the nomination contact person. Previous winners are not eligible.

Recognition
Winner will be announced via our College listserv and recognized at the College of Humanities Pre-Commencement Ceremony in May 2016.

*“One-time” also means that previous winners are not eligible.